Humanity's Freedom

Question: On the solemnity of the Annunciation, I wondered about Mary's "yes" and her choice to agree to or refuse God's request. Did she really have a choice? She was conceived without original sin, therefore was she not predestined to be the mother of his Son? If she really had a choice, would she have been born without original sin? And what of Judas? Jesus had to be betrayed by one of his disciples to suffer and redeem the world. I believe Judas was also predestined by God to play his part in the redemption of humankind, and I believe, if I ever get to heaven, I will see him sitting with Jesus for having accepted his role.

Answer: Your examples presuppose that God, knowing beforehand what we will do, therefore forces us to do it. But this supposition is wrong. One can imagine that we mere humans may know what is going to happen before it does, but see that our knowledge does not rob the participants of freedom.

Suppose you are sitting on a hill and see below that two trains are heading toward each other on the same track. Your knowing what is about to happen does not remove the freedom of the engineers. They continue to act freely even though you know what will soon happen.

God's knowledge is surely more sweeping. But the truth remains that we are not pre-programmed or forced to do what God knows we will do. Rather we act freely, and God, who lives outside of time and sees the whole sweep of time at once, has merely set forth his plans in accord with his knowledge of what we will do.

Mary freely said "Yes," and Judas freely said, "No." God, not forcing but knowing their free choices from all eternity, set his plans in accordance with that.

As for your belief that Judas is in heaven, it may be a bit optimistic. The Church does not declare that any particular person is in hell. However, regarding Judas, Jesus said, "The Son of Man indeed goes, as it is written of him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. It would be better for that man if he had never been born" (Matthew 26:24).

It is hard to imagine Jesus saying of any human person who makes it to heaven that it would be better never to have been born.

The more likely biblical judgment on Judas is that he died in sin and despaired of God's mercy on God's terms. You are free to hope for a different outcome for him. And while the story of Judas does generate some sympathy by many today, the judgment belongs to God.

(Written by Msgr. Charles Pope, Our Sunday Visitor, April 16-22, 2017, page 19).

Electric Motors

Do you have any electric motors that are lying around, and you would like to be rid of? Even with the passing of my father, I would be happy to take any electric motors. You can leave them by the rectory garage in Slayton, or I can pick them up at any of the parishes. Thanks!

Peace be to you!

Father Peter Schuster

COMMUNITY PARTNERS - from Amanda Rehnelt, Volunteer Specialist, Community Connection

Your local community's need for transportation assistance is growing. So far in 2026, the United Community Action Partnership Transportation Program has received 15,382 volunteer transportation requests—a 24% increase over the previous nine-month time frame.

Because of limited driver availability, 1,236 requested trips went unfilled. Each of these unfilled requests equals a community member missing a medical appointment, a trip to the grocery store, or access to another essential service.

We are seeking 5 additional volunteer drivers in each county we serve—Cottonwood, Jackson, Lincoln, Lyon, Murray, Nobles, Pipestone, Rock, and Redwood—and we're asking for your help connecting to more people. Volunteers choose their availability.

Even providing one or two rides per month can make a meaningful impact in someone's life. Are you ready to help? Please contact Amanda Rehnelt at 507-847-2632 ext. 1119 to learn more or sign up.
